

COMMITMENT AND INVOLVEMENT TO OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH & SAFETY

Red Deer Regional Airport Authority is committed to the protection of its employees from work related accidents and illnesses, material loss, and environmental damages.

In fulfilling this commitment to protect both people and property, Red Deer Regional Airport Authority will provide and maintain a safe and healthy work environment through procedures, training, equipment, and programs that comply with legislative and regulatory requirements.

All employees will be equally responsible for minimizing accidents and work-related illnesses within our workplace. Accidental loss can be controlled through good management in combination with active employee involvement. Active participation by everyone, at all times and in every job, is necessary to attain the health, safety, and environmental excellence this company is striving for.

All management functions will comply with federal regulations, county and city by-laws, and company health and safety requirements as they relate to the planning, operation and maintenance of facilities and equipment, and the work environment of our employees. All employees will perform their jobs in accordance with established safe work practices and procedures and cooperate with the employer in maintaining high health, safety, and environmental protection at work for the benefit of all employees, contractors, subcontractors, and the environment.

Our goal is a healthy and injury-free workplace for all employees and contractors. We believe that by working together, we can achieve this goal.

November 1, 2024

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Nancy Paish", written in a cursive style.

Nancy Paish
CEO/Accountable Executive